Attachment: Cookstoves Interagency Mtg 2013-6-13 Agency Updates v2.docx [44 KB]

Hey folks,

I am writing to follow-up Jacob's email from late last week regarding the upcoming Interagency Cookstove Meeting scheduled for February 11th.

Please send me your updates so that I can pull together the EPA update. I am travelling to Kenya to participate in the ISO cookstoves standards meeting on Friday, February 7th, so please send your updates to me by noon on Thursday, so that I have until the end of the day Thursday to pull all our updates together and send to Jacob.

Secondly, as Jim Jetter and I will not be in town to mention EPA's highlights during the meeting, it would be great if Susan and Bryan were able to participate in person and be prepared to provide updates on EPA activities, and if Bob and/or Carlos could be prepared to provide an update on our testing activities.

If anyone has any questions, please give me a call.

Thanks,

John

As leads to pull together your Agency updates, I wanted to be sure you all had the update from the last interagency meeting leading up to the Alliance's 3rd anniversary to work off of for a template.

Please do try to get these to me by noon on February 7.

Thanks in advance,
Jacob

Subject: Next Cookstoves Interagency Working Group Meeting, Feb. 11, 2:15-3:30pm

Dear Colleagues,

Our next Cookstoves Interagency Working Group meeting will be held on Tuesday, February 11, from 2:15-3:30PM here at the State Department (logistics below). I'll send a formal agenda as we get closer, but the primary point of discussion will be the development of a next phase USG commitment under the Global Alliance for Clean Cookstoves (i.e., beyond our initial 5-year commitment). We will also hear major updates by the agencies and the Alliance (I've noted a few selected updates below).

Please RSVP per below and please send me your agency updates (3-5 bullets) by noon, Friday, February 7.

I'll look forward to seeing you February 11.

All the best,
Jacob

Logistics for Next Interagency Meeting:

RSVP: Please RSVP to partnerships@state.gov, with your name, organization/agency, and email for clearance purposes.

Date: Tuesday, February 11, 2014

Time: 2:15-3:30 PM (please allow time to arrive early and get through security)

Location: State Department main building (HST), Principal's Conference Room 7516

Call-in Logistics: TBD [Per usual, for those in the Washington area, please attend in person; we want to reserve this for out-of-town participants.]

Subject: Alliance Updates for Cookstoves Interagency Group

Selected Alliance Updates in Advance of Feb. 11 Cookstoves Interagency Working Group meeting:

- EPA Administrator Gina McCarthy has accepted the Alliance's invitation to serve on its Leadership Council as the U.S. government representative.
- In October, the World Bank and the International Cryosphere Climate Initiative issued a report (On Thin Ice: How Cutting Pollution Can Slow Warming and Save Lives) which concluded that "Cookstove reduction measures offer by far the greatest potential benefits both to human health and to slowing cryosphere warming." And here's a Reuters article about the study.
- In case you missed them, the Alliance has released several tools over the past few months: Clean Cooking Online Catalog, Partner Country Tool Kit, Carbon Finance Platform, Women's Empowerment Resources Guide.
- The Alliance has revamped its website, and it is now more easily navigable. For example, there's now a page with all recent Newsletters.
- You can find all recent press on the Alliance's Media page, but I'll highlight one interesting recent item: Radha's Letter to the Editor in the NY Times in response to a piece by Bjorn Lomborg.
